MONTHLY BUDGET 2026

What living in Phuket costs, if you own the condo

Planning scenario for the west coast, in Thai Baht; USD uses a fixed 34 THB/USD assumption. Rent is excluded because you own; the common fee is what replaces it.

ITEM	SINGLE	COUPLE	FAMILY, 1 CHILD
Common fee, 45-90 m²	2,000-3,600	2,500-5,000	4,000-7,200
Electricity, water, internet	3,000-5,000	4,000-7,000	6,000-10,000
Groceries and eating out	15,000-25,000	25,000-40,000	35,000-55,000
Scooter or car, fuel, insurance	3,000-8,000	6,000-15,000	10,000-20,000
Health insurance	3,000-8,000	6,000-16,000	9,000-22,000
International school	-	-	30,000-90,000
Visa, phone, gym, leisure	5,000-12,000	8,000-20,000	10,000-25,000
Total per month	31,000-61,600	51,500-103,000	104,000-229,200
in USD	$900-1,800	$1,500-3,000	$3,050-6,750

GETTING AROUND

Plan your daily transport

Check local bus routes and school transport; budget car or taxi costs if the route does not fit.

Airport in the north

Nai Yang 5 min, Bang Tao 40 min, Kata 60+ min. Matters if you fly monthly.

Rainy season May-Oct

Quieter, cheaper, still warm. Check the ground floor for drainage.

TELEGRAM

Ask which project fits your school run

Distances are driving times in normal traffic; school lists are the main international options in 2026, not a ranking.

LAYOUTS FOR LIVING

A home is not a hotel room: what to look for

61-120 m² and real storage

For a longer stay, compare usable space, storage and household needs. For full-time living look at The Liberty by Wallaya (61-120 m²), Diamond (up to 228 m²), Biancana and Serenity 2-3 bedrooms.

A kitchen you can cook in

Ask for the kitchen spec: hob, hood, oven point, hot water. Rental-pool projects often ship kitchenettes.

Home office and shade

West-facing glass is a sunset and an air-conditioning bill. A second bedroom or a study corner with a window pays for itself.

Personal use rules

Projects with rental programmes restrict owner stays. For a home, pick a project without a mandatory pool or opt out in writing.

VISAS: PROPERTY DOES NOT GIVE RESIDENCY

ROUTE	WHO	TERM
Destination Thailand Visa (DTV)	remote workers, freelancers, long-stay visitors	5 years, 180 days per entry
Long-Term Resident (LTR)	wealthy pensioners, professionals, investors; income and investment thresholds	10 years
Thailand Privilege (Elite)	paid membership	depends on current membership
Retirement (O-A / O-X)	50+, funds in a Thai bank or pension income	1 year renewable / 10 years
Education, business, marriage	case by case	1 year renewable

Visa rules change; the list is a 2026 orientation, not immigration advice. LTR eligibility includes category-specific financial and other tests; owning a condo alone does not qualify you.

OWNERSHIP IN ONE PAGE

Freehold or leasehold: what a foreign buyer actually gets

Freehold, 49% quota

Foreigners may own condominium units outright, but only within 49% of the total unit floor area of the registered condominium. Most non-resident foreign buyers use an eligible foreign-currency remittance with bank evidence; statutory eligibility routes differ. If the quota is full, foreign freehold transfer is unavailable until quota becomes available; consider another registered condominium or a lawyer-reviewed lease.

Leasehold, up to 30 years

A lease registered at the Land Department, typically 30 years. Renewals are a contract promise, not an automatic right. Compare the remaining term, transfer rights and total price per unit.

What to check per unit

Remaining foreign quota in the registered condominium, payment schedule, sinking fund and common fees, management contract if you rent out, who signs the sale agreement.

What this catalog is not

Not investment or legal advice and not a guarantee of any income. Yields are estimates. Availability and prices change; confirm before booking and have a licensed Thai lawyer read the contract.

TRANSFER COSTS, TYPICAL

ITEM	WHO PAYS	RATE
Transfer fee (freehold)	Split by agreement, often 50/50	2% of appraised value
Lease registration fee + stamp duty (leasehold)	By agreement	1% + 0.1% of total rent
Specific business tax or stamp duty	Seller; eligibility varies	3.3% or 0.5%
Withholding tax	Seller	progressive / 1%
Sinking fund, illustrative	Buyer at handover	THB 500-1,000 / m ²
Common area fee, illustrative	Owner, monthly	THB 40-80 / m ²

These are baseline rates and planning assumptions, not a transaction tax assessment. Discounts, exemptions and seller status can change the payable amount. The developer's price list states which costs are included.
